Band and Majorettes a Credit to M. H. S.

The McDonald High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Philip Mruk, has been a credit to our school with its many fine performances during this past year. The music of the greatly improved band was enjoyed at the various parades, assemblies, and football games. One of the high points of the year was a field trip made to Carnegie Tech to hear the Air Force and Army band.

The officers of the band include: Rachel Hughey, president; Joye Masquellier, vice president; Karen Cobbett, secretary; and John Putt, treasurer.

Leading the band were eight high-stepping majorettes in new uniforms. These girls added color to the band as they demonstrated their abilities in twirling and marching. Their seemingly easy feats were perfected only after long hours of practice.

The band was very fortunate in losing only eight members. The majorettes lost only two.

Both the band and majorettes deserve commendation for a real contribution to M. H. S.

Chorus Works Diligently

Under the direction of Mr. Philip Mruk, the Chorus worked diligently during the year for the Christmas Program and Spring Concert. The last weeks of school were spent practicing the music for baccalaureate and commencement.

M. H. S. was very fortunate in being represented by seven of its Chorus members at the Washington County Chorus which sang at Teachers' Institute. Karen Cobbett and Margie Beth Hull represented our school at the Western Pennsylvania District Chorus. This 224-voice chorus was made up of high school girls and boys from five counties and was directed by Dr. Paul Campbell of Pennsylvania State University.

Because of the other activities Mr. Mruk had in the music department, there was no Dance Band this year. However, a Chorus Dance was held, and the students enjoyed dancing to the music of the Sherman-Smith Quintet.

To Mr. Mruk goes the credit for a Chorus which showed much improvement and which set a standard for choruses of future years to follow.

The officers were Irwin Lederstein, president; Ruth Ann Daniels, vice president; Mary Ann Klimas, secretary; and Margie Beth Hull, treasurer.

Pep Club Arouses Enthusiasm

Arousing pep and enthusiasm was the object of the '56-'57 Pep Club. The club, sponsored the first half of the year by Mrs. Campbell, is the lifeline of the whole school. At the end of the first semester, Miss Doris June Campbell took over the duties of Mrs. Campbell, who was granted a leave of absence to travel.

The officers were: Alice Lienard, president; Rachel Hughey, vice president; Gloria Hennon, secretary; Anna Marie Sansone, treasurer; and Patricia Berry, historian. Each one of these officers worked diligently at her individual job.

The Pep Club is composed of the members of the football and basketball teams, the school cheering sections, and the school band. It is the job of the club members to support the teams and help keep up the school spirit. The Pep Club also promotes good sportsmanship and leadership.

Projects for the year included selling programs at the football games.

Rah! Rah! Cheerleaders!

Rah! Rah! Rah! Three cheers for our indispensable girls in red and white.

The '57 cheerleaders of McDonald High began practicing early in August. Under the leadership of Alice Lienard, head cheerleader, they worked tirelessly, learning new songs and routines.

Displaying co-ordination and split-second timing, the girls "strut their stuff" at pep assemblies and football and basketball games.

The "Old McDonald Spirit" has been kept alive by the vigor and enthusiasm of these girls throughout the school year.

The final assembly of the football season is highlighted by a comic football game which has become traditional at McDonald High, in which the cheerleaders become football stars and the first-string team are transformed into a yelling mob. During half time, there is a parade including several senior boys dressed as majorettes and clowns.

Sponsors for the cheerleaders were Mrs. Rosana Campbell and Miss June Campbell. Not pictured is Isabelle Robertson, substitute cheerleader.

Future Homemakers of America Have Active Year

An active year was enjoyed by the Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Miss Delores Ammons. At a candlelight ceremony early in the year, Margie Beth Hull was installed as president; Ruth Ann Daniels as vice president; Peggy Brenkus, secretary; Bonnie Jo Weimer, treasurer; Helen Marie Fini, historian; and Mary Ann Siry, degree chairman.

The F. H. A., which is affiliated with a nationwide organization, is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior girls who are interested in preparing themselves to be capable homemakers.

The girls worked hard at collecting toys at Christmas time to be sent to the orphanage sponsored by the F. H. A. This activity was in line with the club objective to make a contribution of service to society. Several of the girls attended the F. H. A. Sub-regional B meeting held at Moon Union High School.

Another interesting and profitable activity of the club was the selling of candy during the home basketball games.

The year was climaxed by a successful Mother and Daughter banquet.

Future Teachers of America Organize

The Future Teachers, a newly-organized club, is made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who desire to make teaching their profession.

The purpose of the club is to give prospective teachers an idea of what school teaching involves and also to give them some practical experience. The Future Teachers render a definite service by substituting for teachers.

After the club received its charter at the beginning of the year, it became an organized club in McDonald High School.

The members of the club, with Mr. Plato

Anestis as sponsor, started the year by electing Rachel Hughey, president; and Ruth Ann Daniels, vice president. Other officers elected were Margie Beth Hull, secretary-treasurer, and Mary Beth Hampson, historian.

There are seven graduating members in the club this year. Several of them have already been accepted at various colleges, where they will major in the field of education.

The student body of M. H. S. wishes the Future Teachers of America many more successful years in McDonald High School.

El Club Pan-Americana

El Club Pan-Americana needed two sponsors for the 1956-57 year. Mrs. Rosana Campbell, who had the good fortune to enjoy a trip around the world during the second semester, turned over her duties to Mrs. Nancy Bracall.

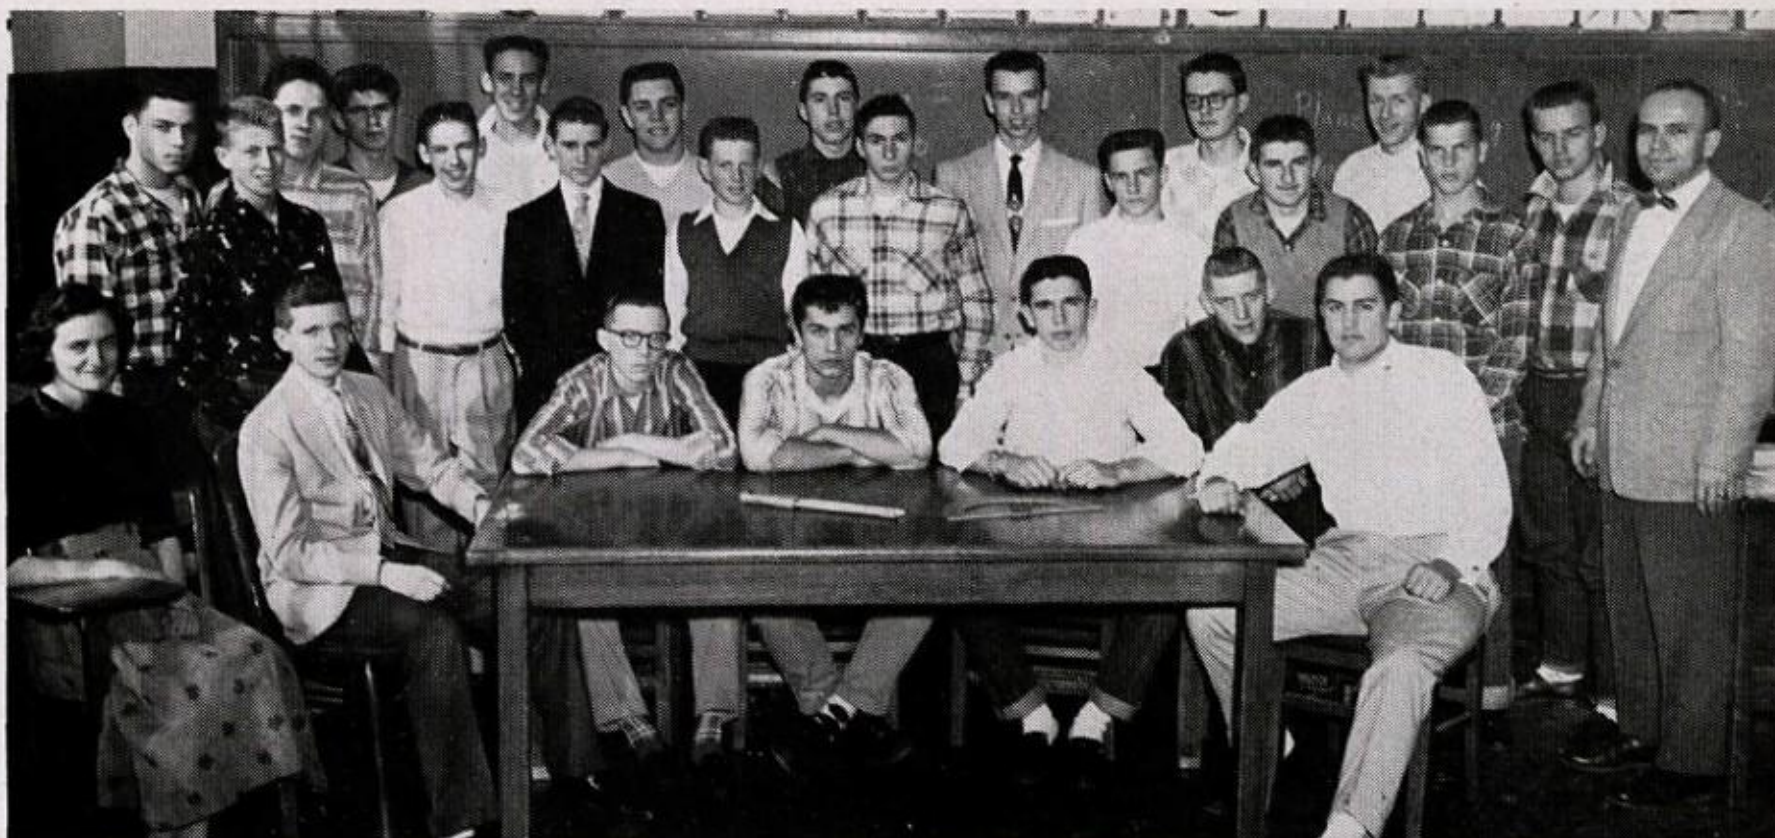

Christmas, with its traditional Spanish customs, gave the club an opportunity for colorful and interesting activities. At the Christmas party, a pinata, the Spanish version of the Christmas stocking, was suspended from a pole and then broken, releasing the goodies with which it had been filled. The whole school enjoyed the Christmas carols sung in the halls by club members. Needless to add, they were sung in Spanish.

The club continued the custom of writing to pen pals in Central and South American countries.

Initiation of first-year Spanish students took place on Pan-American Day in April.

The officers include Ellen Bednar, president; Dale Miller, vice president; William Hyser, secretary; Janet Heron, treasurer; Patricia Berry, reporter.

The Engineers' Club, a new organization in M. H. S., is composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who hold a B average in Mathematics and Science. The sponsors are Miss June Campbell and Mr. Benjamin Stasko.

The club was formed to inform students of the requirements of an engineering course and to acquaint them with all the possible fields in engineering and the opportunities in these fields. The members made a study of professional ethics of engineers and also saw several movies on the various phases of engineering.

The club members made a field trip to the Engineering Conference at the University of Pittsburgh and while at the conference toured the engineering laboratories at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

In March, the club members toured the Engineering laboratories at the University of Pittsburgh. The boys made a study of the requirements for taking an engineering course in the various universities in the district. This information was made into a book which was used at the end of the year, in a report given to the ninth-grade students who were eligible to join the club. This report will be an annual project of the club.

The officers of the club were: Louis Thomassy, president; Jon Sember, vice president; Richard Scott, secretary-treasurer. The committee that organized the club consisted of these three officers and John Nolte, Robert Bernhart, and Robert Lamb. This committee had equal representation of two seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores.

Chronicle, a Successful Project Completed

Another successful year has ended for the Chronicle. Louis Thomassy, editor-in-chief, along with his Chronicle staff, has produced a fine paper. This task could not have been accomplished without the assistance of Miss Jane K. Kirk, the publications advisor.

In spite of many difficulties, the staff always managed to have the Chronicle completed on time. The publishing of the school paper taught the students to work together as well as to deal with the public. It also furnished valuable training in writing.

Money was always a problem, but thanks to the advertising staff, under the leadership of Victor Dehoux and his assistant, Wayne Masquelier, who solicited the businessmen of McDonald and the surrounding vicinities for advertising, the problem was solved.

Other staffs include: the editorial staff, headed by Louis Thomassy, assisted by Carol Lohman and Robert Reedy; the business staff, headed by Mary Catherine Rosecrans, assisted by Martha Lee; the sports editor, William Randour. The duties of the art staff were shared by Margie Beth Hull and Carol Lohman. The various staffs did their jobs well, and each contributed to the success of the Chronicle.

Publishing the Chronicle is one of the high points of the senior class. The seniors look forward to improving and changing the Chronicle each year, as much as the students look forward to getting their copies each month and finding out the latest news.

The Chronicle staff would like to thank the businessmen of McDonald for their co-operation and patronage and also to wish the Chronicle staffs of the future all the success possible.

Laurel Adds Red Devil

The 1957 Laurel is a much different and greatly-improved book. For the first time in the Laurel's history, color is used in the form of the M. H. S. Red Devil who introduces the various sections of the book.

Rachel Hughey, editor-in-chief, her assistants, Margie Beth Hull and Irwin Lederstein, and the other members of the editorial staff worked hard to coordinate the work of all the staffs into the finished product.

The knotty problem of getting the money to publish the Laurel was solved by a successful magazine campaign, by the hard work of the advertising staff, by the seniors bringing in names for patrons, by two fifteen-cent dances, and the annual "boxing gloves" basketball game.

THE FUN WE HAD

Athletic Council Renders Service to School

One of the least-known organizations, but the most important as far as athletics are concerned, is the Athletic Council.

Scheduling games, advertising the games, providing tickets, buying equipment, sponsoring sports banquets, and providing transportation for away games are the responsibilities of the council.

School board, faculty, and senior high school representatives comprise the membership of the organization. Officers are Mr. H. M. Pettit, president; Mr. Earl Cameron, Jr., vice president; and Mr. Benjamin Stasko, secretary-treasurer. Other members from the faculty are Mr. Guy Tornabene, Mr. Edward Blockowicz, and Mr. Edward Hepe. The representatives from the classes are Jon Sember, senior; Richard Scott, junior; and Robert Bastide, sophomore.

The representatives from the classes are elected by their classes, respectively, and their job is to express the opinions of the athletes from each class.

The council, this year, sponsored an all-sports banquet, bought football and basketball equipment, presented awards at the Awards Assembly, and saw that the football field was cared for. The most eye-catching equipment bought this year were the basketball team's red sweat suits.

To promote a high standard of sportsmanship and to foster friendly relations at all athletic events is the purpose of the Lettermen's Club.

The club, composed of all boys who participate in sports in M.H.S., was first organized in 1948 and has contributed much to the successful athletic program of the school.

Each year the club members choose a football queen who is crowned at the Football Dance sponsored by the club. This year's queen was Alice Lienard, head cheerleader.

The club also chooses the outstanding athlete of the year. Jon Sember was chosen as the 1957 athlete of the year.

Officers of the club are as follows: Jon Sember, president; Edward Sawhill, vice president; Edward Schreiber, secretary-treasurer.

These officers and the coaches, Mr. Blockowicz and Mr. Hepe, have worked faithfully to help the club achieve its purpose.

Red Devils Have 50 - 50 Year

This year the McDonald High School Red Devils failed to live up to the usual McDonald reputation. The Devils held a 4-4 record for the eight scheduled games, giving them a .500 percentage. Head coach, Mr. Blockowicz, and assistant coach, Mr. Hepe, both did a great job in working to develop a winning team, even though the records only partially show the results of their work.

Several valuable players were lost last June by graduation, and the coaches were faced with the task of building a team from less experienced players. Several new faces were seen in this year's line-up.

The Devils boasted victories over Cecil, East Washington, Brentwood, and Claysville. The four losses were to Midway, Avella, Hickory, and South Fayette.

Several McDonald players were named on the All-Star team. Jon Sember and John Putt made the first team while Paul Rocher's efforts earned him a second-team berth. Tim Thomassy and Bill Spaude received honorable mention.

This year's starting line-up consisted of ten seniors: Jon Sember, fullback; Charles Lee and Ed Sawhill, halfbacks; and Bill Spaude, quarterback. In the line were: Vic Dehoux and Tim Thomassy at ends; John Putt and Ed Schreiber, tackles; Paul Rocher, guard; and Bill Wyke, center. The entire squad, including the underclassmen, all tried hard to win.

The most beautiful as well as one of the outstanding social events of the year was the Football Dance, held at the close of the football season and sponsored by the Lettermen's Club.

The outstanding attraction at the dance was the colorful crowning of the Football Queen, Alice Lienard. Each year the Lettermen choose as queen one of the senior girls, all of whom are eligible. This year, as in past years, the head cheerleader was chosen. Alice Lienard, the queen, not only was head cheerleader but was active in many clubs and other activities.

Alice chose Rachel Hughey, vice president of the Pep Club, as her maid-of-honor. Other attendants included the rest of the cheerleaders, Pep Club officers, and the two senior majorettes.

Alice, poised and beautiful in her white floor-length gown trimmed in red velvet, McDonald's school colors, played the role of Queen well. She carried the traditional bouquet of white mums in the shape of a football. Her attendants added the needed color to the Football Dance in their floor-length pastel gowns.

They also carried a large mum with red and white streamers.

Eight honor guards, chosen from the band, lined the path the Queen and her attendants followed. They were: Marilou Johnston, Mary Cameron, Mary Alice Spaude, Carolyn Hepe, Linda Lescalette, Delilah Tornabene, Terry Holder, Martin Schottenheimer, James Heron, and Edwin Nadolny.

Jon Sember, one of the co-captains, escorted the queen to the throne, and John Putt, the other co-captain, crowned her.

The crown bearer, Carolyn Dettore, was dressed in a dainty pink gown. The Spirit of M. H. S. was represented by Billy Martinek, dressed like a Red Devil.

Decorations appropriate to the occasion included a ceiling of red and white streamers, from which were hung stars that pictured the football team. Mr. Davis, Mr. Stasko, the Lettermen's Club, and members of the court were responsible for the effective decorations.

Johnny Vincent's Orchestra furnished the music for the dance which will be long remembered.

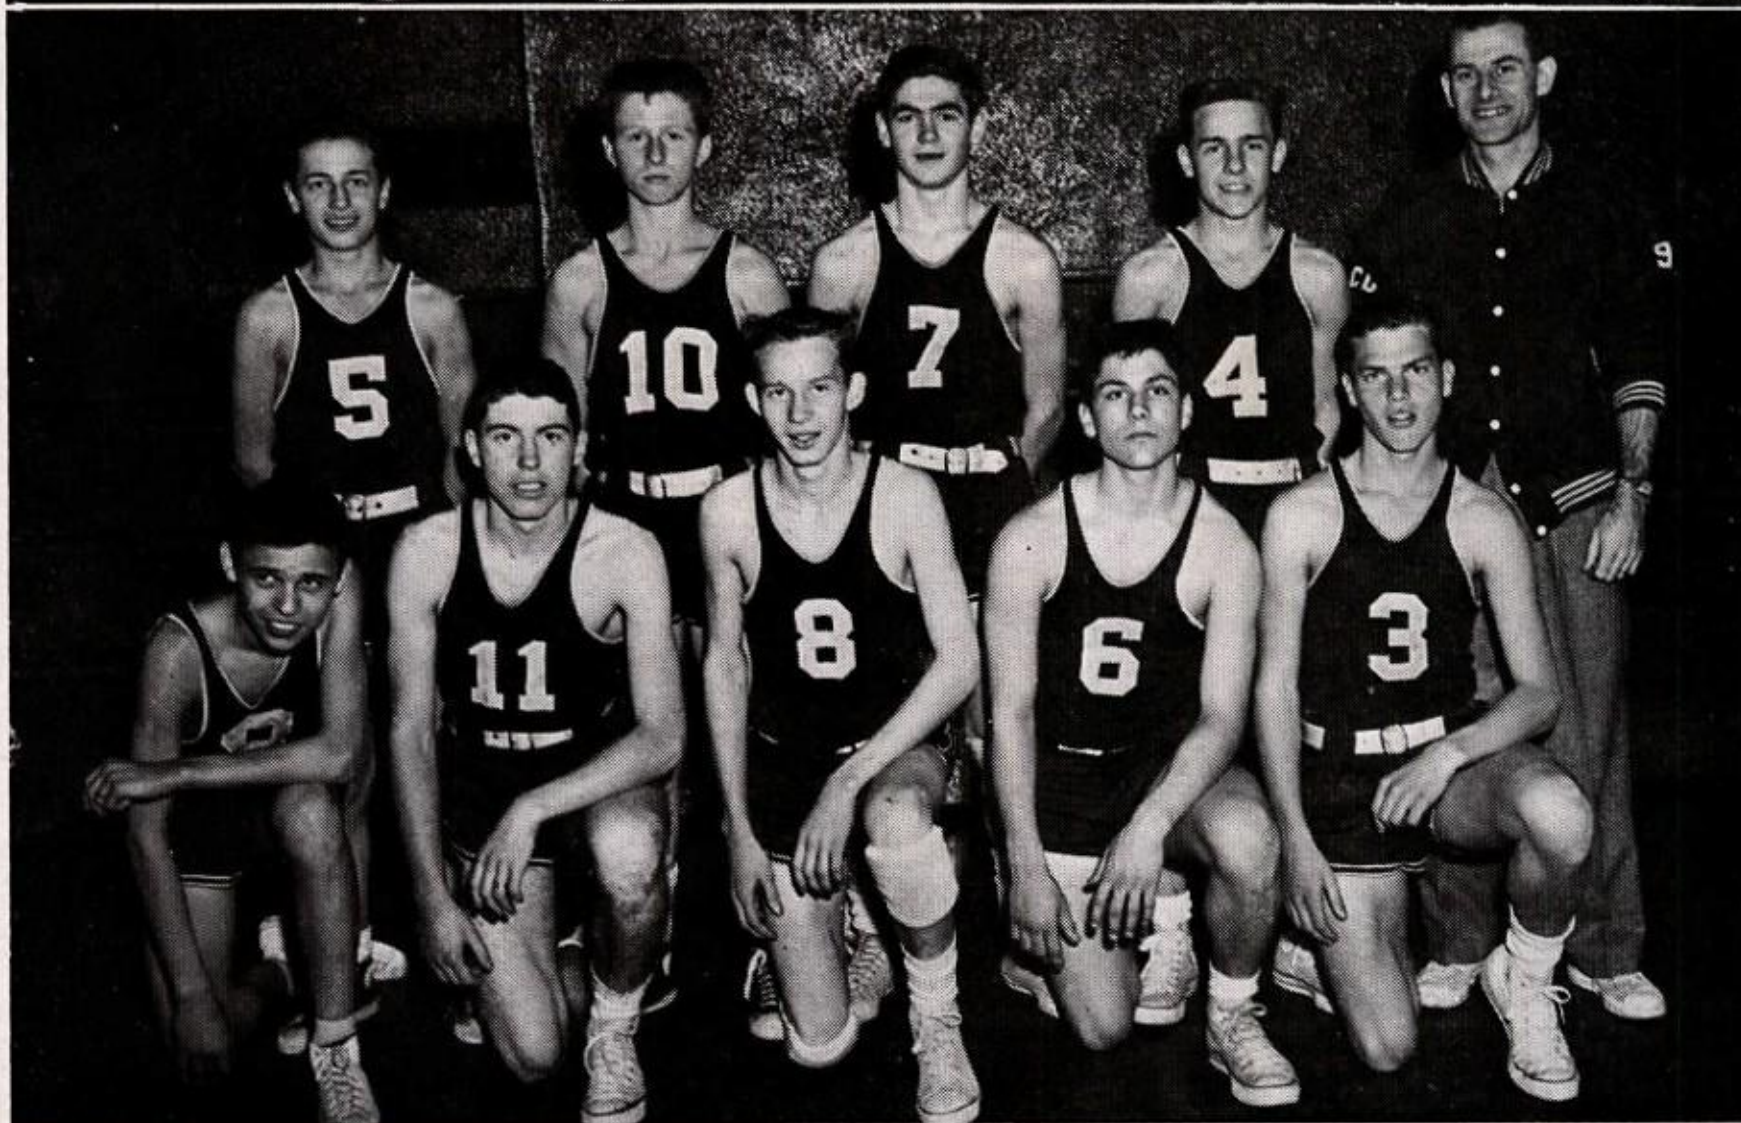

Most Valuable Player — 1957

Jon M. Sember is the 1957 winner of the "Most Valuable Player" award given annually by the Lettermen's Club.

Jon, a senior, is president of the Lettermen's Club. He has earned two letters in football, basketball, and track. In his senior year he was co-captain of the football team. He was chosen for this honor because he is an outstanding athlete and has attained the highest standard in scholarship, character, leadership, and sportsmanship, qualities which are required to qualify for the award. He has helped to keep this standard high as have those who have represented McDonald High School in former years.

Managers Work Hard

The backbone of our athletic teams is a group of hard-working boys officially known as the managers.

Among their many responsibilities are the care of the equipment, lining of the field for home games, keeping sports statistics, taping ankles and wrists of the players, and being prepared with the first-aid kit.

A victory means that the managers are the object of the players' practical jokes; a defeat means that the managers are the objects of the players' bad tempers. Because of this, they have to cultivate a "Grin and bear it" attitude. Any manager will furnish illustrations. They have to reconcile themselves to the fact that they are first in and last out. A long practice session for the team means a long session for the managers as well. They have to eat warmed-over meals, too.

McDonald High School should give these boys extra credit since they have served as managers during football and basketball seasons. Chosen by the coaches from the non-athletes, the boys perform a real service which is too often unappreciated.

An appropriate slogan might be "Know and appreciate the managers".

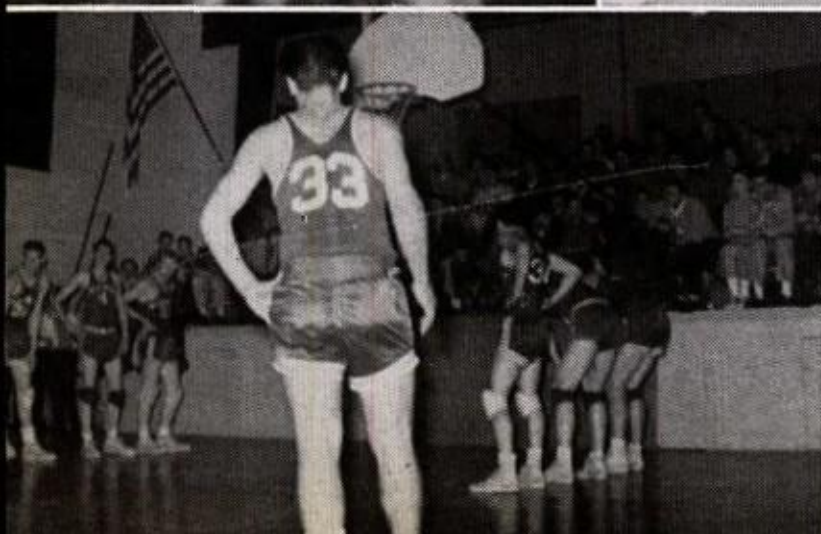

1. Spaude tips another foul shot . . . A sure hit by Sember.

2. Excited crowd at the half . . . Did you make it, Reg?

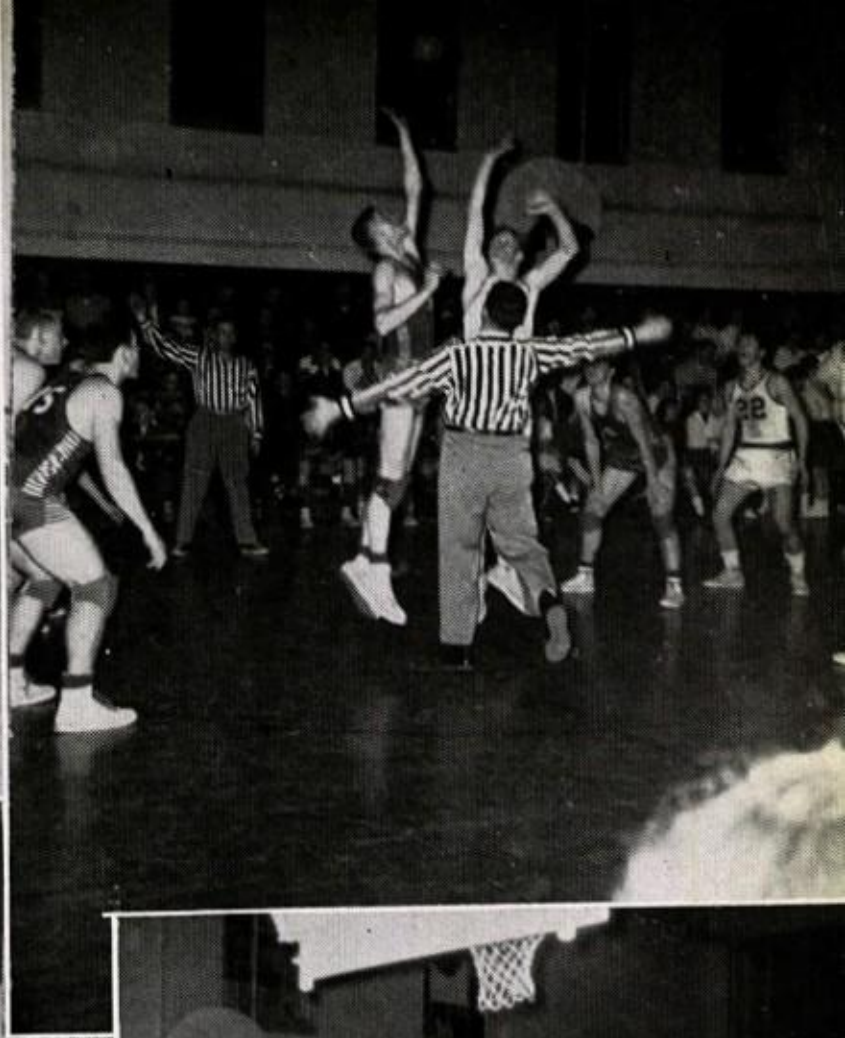

3. You did it, Gap! . . . What are you doing, Dwight?

4. He won't make it, Sember! . . . No holding hands, Spaude.

1. Gap sinks another . . .
Higher, Spaude.

2. Nice tip, Gonze . . . Two more points for Lip.

3. Regie takes a lay-up shot.

4. Ready, set, go . . . Reliable reserves.

The Junior Class selected as their officers: Gene Penberthy, president; Jack McDowell, vice president; Ruth Ann Daniels, secretary; Joan Cook, treasurer. Under the leadership of the officers, as a capable sweater and ring committee, the class selected sweaters of the traditional red and white which are similar to those chosen by the class of '57; however, the '58 class rings are very new and different. The rings are topped with a huge "M" and a new crest.

M.H.S. will see a well-organized and prosperous senior year when the Junior Class of '57 becomes the Senior Class of '58.

The homeroom teachers are Miss Shirley Gilbert and Mr. Frank Scarci.

SENIORS

Officers Pilot Class Successfully

Piloting the class through a busy and successful year was the strenuous but rewarding task of the senior officers. Sponsoring the stand at football games, assuming financial responsibility for the Chronicle and the Laurel, and carrying out the traditional commencement activities kept the senior officers, class members, and sponsor on their toes.

A highlight of the year was the fun-packed "Magazine" banquet held just before Christmas vacation to celebrate a most profitable magazine campaign. Miss Kirk's room, the winners, had the pleasure of being served by Mr. Hepe's room, the losers. This is only one of the many and pleasant memories which the class of '57 will carry with them as they leave M.H.S. The Alma Mater's "the school we hold so dear" has real meaning for every senior.
